- The project is a large-scale world map mounted on a blue background. The map itself is color-coded by continent: North America (yellow), South America (green), Europe (blue), Africa (purple), Asia (orange), Australia (pink), and Antarctica (white). Major cities are labeled with red dots, and country names are written in black capital letters. The map is surrounded by various cutouts and cards:
- Top Left: A card with the title "The World" and the name "SARAH". Below it is a photo of a person.
 - Top Right: Several national flags, including the United States, Canada, Mexico, and others.
 - Middle Left: A card with the text "The World is a big place" and a photo of a globe.
 - Middle Right: A card with the text "The World is a big place" and a photo of a globe.
 - Bottom Left: A card with the text "The World is a big place" and a photo of a globe.
 - Bottom Center: A long strip of paper containing a list of countries and their corresponding flags.
 - Bottom Right: A card with the text "The World is a big place" and a photo of a globe.
